Please provide reasons below:

If refinancing or consolidating debts, please provide details of the debts that are being refinanced or consolidated and the resulting benefit to you:

Your preferred interest rate type: (select one)

Variable rate - It is important to have an interest rate that fluctuates over the term of the loan.

Fixed rate - It is important to have certainty about the interest rate and/or repayment for a fixed term.

Fixed & Variable - It is important to have a combination of fixed and variable interest rates.

No preferred interest rate type.

Your preferred repayment type: (select one)

Principal & Interest - It is important to have repayments that include the principal amount borrowed & the interest payable, so that the loan is repaid in full by the end of the loan's term.

Interest only - It is important to make interest only repayments for a specified term.

Interest only in advance - It is important to have the ability to make an advanced or lump sum interest only repayment.

No preferred repayment type.

Reasons for interest only:

Investment purposes

Cash flow for future investment
(e.g. shares, investment property, super contributions)

Intend to convert owner occupied property into investment property in the future

Recommendation provided by financial planner/accountant

Anticipated large expense items
(e.g. education, renovations, furniture)

Temporary reduction in income
(e.g. parental leave, change in circumstances)

Know the risks of interest-only home loans

Interest-only home loans seem more affordable because initially the repayments are lower than the repayments on principal and interest loans, but they have some drawbacks:

- Interest-only loans cost more - The amount of money you owe does not reduce during the interest-only period, which means you'll pay a lot more interest over the life of the loan, compared to a principal and interest loan. For example, a $500,000 loan over 25 years, with an interest rate of 5%, would cost you an extra $40,062 in interest if it was interest-only for the first 5 years.
- Repayments will increase at the end of the interest-only period - When the interest-only period ends you'll need to start repaying the principal as well as the interest - and, with less time to pay it off, your repayments are likely to be a lot higher.
- Not building equity - If your property does not increase in value during the interest-only period, you risk having no equity in your home at the end of this period, despite making payments every month. This may put you at greater risk if there is a downturn in the market or your circumstances change and you have to sell.

5. Product flexibility

Yes  No  Not essential

Other features sought:

Disclose any significant costs and/or risks associated with the benefits being sought eg costs of refinancing, break costs, fees for credit assistance services etc.

WARNING: If you choose a fixed rate loan you may be charged break costs if, before the expiry of the fixed interest period:

(a) you make an additional payment ; or

(b) you pay out that fixed rate loan or an amount becomes due and payable; or

(c) if you change your loan type or fixed interest period that applies to your loan. For example, if you request to switch from a 5-year fixed rate loan to a 2-year fixed rate loan or to a variable rate loan.

Break costs could be substantial if interest rates fall during the fixed interest period. You should take break costs into consideration when deciding whether you want to fix your interest rate. The terms and conditions applying to your loan will set out when break costs may be payable. You should read the terms and conditions carefully and ensure that you understand them.

We may seek from and use or disclose information about you to third parties in relation to: considering your application for credit or a guarantee in connection with an application for credit; administering your loan; exercising rights relating to any guarantee; or, any insurance policy an insurer issues to the credit provider relating to your loan or the loan you guarantee. A Credit Reporting Body may include information about you in reports that it gives other organisations (such as other credit providers) to help them assess your credit worthiness.

The Credit Provider, loan servicer or trust manager will only share any credit information about you with a Credit Reporting Body if that body has a business operation in Australia and is unlikely to share credit eligibility information with organisations that do not have business operations in Australia.

Some of the information held by a Credit Reporting Body may reflect adversely on your credit worthiness, for example, where you fail to make payments or if you commit a series credit infringement (like obtaining credit by deception / fraud). In any event, we may disclose personal information outside of Australia including, without limitation to the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, the European Union and India. Overseas organisations may be required to disclose information shared with them under a foreign law. In those instances, the organisation described above that disclosed the information to the overseas organisation will not be responsible for that disclosure.

We will take reasonable steps to ensure that any overseas organisation that receives your personal information will comply with the Act.
